Access and/or visit to this website imply user's full and unconditional compliance with any and all terms and conditions set forth in this website. Therefore, if you do not fully accept such terms and conditions, we request you not to access or visit this website. Tuteur laboratory reserves the right to change the terms and conditions of use of this website, which shall be valid as from the time they are published or notified to the users by any means, whatever occurs first. Therefore, we suggest that every time you access this website you should read these General Terms and Conditions.

QUALITY OF THE INFORMATION CONTAINED IN THIS WEBSITE

The purpose of this website is to provide services to health professionals.

The contents of this site are specifically addressed to health professionals, not to the general public. People visiting this site who are not health professionals should refrain from using the information contained herein, whether for themselves or for others, as such information has been conceived to be interpreted, valued and used by health professionals. By no means does the information available in this site replace a medical consultation, nor does it constitute any kind of advice or suggestion to use it by way of self-prescription or self-medication.

Tuteur neither provides any guarantee nor assumes any liability, whether explicit or implied, about the accuracy or integrity of the information supplied in this website, and denies any responsibility for the use of this site or any other related to it, and for the use of the information contained therein. Every piece of information available or referenced in this website is published for information purposes only. The information contained in this website may by no means be considered as medical suggestion, advice or instruction given by Tuteur. Users should not use this information to assess, diagnose or treat a disease, since such information may by no means replace or become an alternative to the professional advice, diagnosis, direction or counsel provided by a qualified physician. Please consult a professional medical doctor in case of doubt or query that may be related to your health condition or disease.

LINKS

This website makes available to its users some links that allow access to other websites belonging to third parties. The inclusion of these links only aims at informing users about the existence of other sources of information, and by no means does it imply a suggestion or recommendation to visit such sites. Tuteur shall not be liable for any damages, whether current or future, material or moral, direct or indirect, which users might suffer, derived from the information contained in said websites, or from the relationship that might arise between users and third parties whose services have been published in this website.

WAIVER OF LIABILITIES AND GUARANTEES

User's liability

All users accept that access to this website as well as access to any others through this website, and use of the information contained therein -whatever its nature- is to their own and exclusive risk. Neither Tuteur nor any other person or entity involved in the creation, production or publication of this website or any other site that can be accessed through this one shall be deemed liable for any actions for the recovery of damages derived from the use of or impossibility to use this website or any other site accessible through this one -regardless of whether such damages are direct, indirect, remote, immediate, contingent, incidental or consequential-, or for any mistake, omission, delay or failure to update the contents of said websites. Each user shall be liable for all kinds of damages suffered by Tuteur and/or this website as a result of the non-fulfillment of any obligation he may become subject to upon acceptance of the terms and conditions contained in these Terms and Conditions. Each user expresses full agreement and undertakes to indemnify and hold Tuteur and/or any of its employees, licensors, suppliers and licensees, harmless from and against any loss, expenses, damages and costs derived from any breach of the applicable laws and regulations, and of the terms and conditions contained in these Terms and Conditions, when such breach is accomplished, whether by action or omission, by the user or any other person getting access to this website by using the account and/or technical devices belonging to such user. Likewise, users declare that they are aware of and assume all risks related to the use of the Internet, including risks of damage to the users' software and hardware due to the presence in this website or any other related thereto of a virus or any other element capable of altering the computer system. Tuteur waives any liability for damages of any kind derived from the presence of viruses or any other harmful element in this website or in any other site accessible through this one.
